Sheriffs Ranch For Lucky Boys

LIVE OAK—Most boys consider themselves lucky to have one father—but Wally Edwards is luckier than most. He will have 67 "Dads" rooting for him when he walks across the stage at Suwannee High School, June 3, to get his diploma.

Wally was "adopted" by Florida's 67 sheriffs when he became one of the first boys to enroll at the Florida Sheriffs Boys Ranch back in 1959; and now he will be the first boy from the Ranch to graduate from high school.

"I couldn't feel any prouder if he was my natural son," said Baker County Sheriff Ed Yarbrough, Chairman of the Boys Ranch Board of Trustees, "and I am sure all of my fellow sheriffs feel the same way."

Formerly a resident of Woodville, a small community near Tallahassee, Wally has made an outstanding record of scholarship and leadership at the Ranch. Last year he was one of the youths representing Florida at the National Convention of the Future Farmers of America and he has developed public speaking talents that make him the envy of many of his adopted Dads.

The 17-year-old youth will continue to live at the Boys Ranch, 11 miles north of Live Oak, and he will start his college education in the Fall by commuting to nearby North Florida Junior College. His ambition is to become a vocational agriculture teacher.

"Wally is a good example of what the Ranch can do for needy and worthy boys," said Sheriff Yarbrough. "We have given him the breaks in life he so richly deserved, and now we have the satisfaction of seeing him take his place in society as a responsible citizen."

There are 52 boys living at the Ranch now, ranging in age from 8 to 17, and facilities are being expanded as fast as funds will permit toward a target enrollment of 400.

Financed entirely by public donations, the Ranch was founded in 1957 as the first institution of its kind sponsored by sheriffs. Since then the sheriffs of Georgia and Alabama have established boys ranches, and other states are considering similar projects.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The Palm Beach County Bar Association has asked the county commission to construct a new criminal court building adjacent to the county jail to ease the courthouse space problem.

In a resolution presented to the commission Monday, the bar association also urged the county to build an addition to the present courthouse to further expand cramped county offices.

The commission took no action on the request, but noted it in the minutes and filed it. There was no discussion of the subject.

The resolution noted that the county had launched a study 18 months ago to solve the space shortage. The study was discontinued when County Planner Paul Knowles died last year.

The resolution urged a resumption of the study, and quick action on a criminal courthouse near the jail, to provide more room for Circuit and Small Claims courts.

Two circuit judges now share the same quarters, and the two small claims court judges have only one hearing room. The bar association resolution said when one judge is hearing cases, the other has no hearing room to use.

President Kennedy sent a letter to Airport Director Frank Sakser expressing appreciation to him for "your many courtesies and kindnesses to us during our visits to Palm Beach." The letter said "your thoughtfulness made our visits very pleasant." Sakser proudly displayed the letter, in a frame, to county commissioners Monday.

County commissioners agreed to split the costs with Delray Beach for relocating the tennis courts that must be moved to make way for widening of W. Atlantic Ave to 106 feet. Appraisers will be named to estimate the damage involved, and the county will pay half.

County commissioners support-ted Lake Worth resolutions on U. S. Highway 1 and 10th Ave., and forwarded the resolutions Monday to the State Road Department.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Stephens Family To New York Meet

John H. Stephens, Canal Point, is a minister on the move. The Stephens family will join a delegation of 30 members of the Belle Glade congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses to an international convention of the religious group scheduled for Yankee Stadium in New York, July 7-14.

Convention officials in New York have announced that 125,000 persons are expected to attend the eight-day gathering, representing the Eastern United States, Canada, Central and South America and the Caribbean Isles.

Stephens, turning to a dictionary at hand, said a vacation is defined as "being free from general duty of service; a period of rest and relaxation or a holiday. Nothing could be further from the truth with our family," he said, smiling.

"We plan our annual vacation around an outing for the family including travel," he said, "but also on the agenda is attendance at a religious convention of Jehovah's Witnesses which is a regular part of our ministerial training program. This year our plans revolve around a trip to New York."

Stephens said three conventions are planned in the United States this summer. In addition to the New York gathering, conventions are scheduled for County Stadium in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, June 30 to July 7, and the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, California, Sept. 1 to 8. Approximately 250,000 are expected to attend the three conventions.

"A Total of 21 other assemblies are planned around the world," Stephens said, "covering Europe, the Near East, Asia, Australia and the isles of the Pacific. These meetings are Bible educational sessions designed to point out the responsibilities and obligations resting upon Christians in these critical times."

"Regardless of location, race, creed or language," he said, these conventions will demonstrate the international unity of Jehovah's Witness and the need for true peace and unity in a divided perplexed world.

Stephens said the delegates from Belle Glade, Pahokee and Canal Point will be mixing business with pleasure but the emphasis will be on business. "The trips each year provide the children with an opportunity to see the country," he said, "including many educational attractions and natural wonders. Excursions of this kind broaden the wisdom and understanding of the children; giving them depth and knowledge. The convention program is for all members of the family, especially designed to enrich our appreciation of spiritual things and make us more cognizant of our Christians duties of service."

Stephens said the Belle Glade delegates will be traveling to New York by car and train.
